HELD ON CHARGE OF CUTTING EX-WIFE'S PRESENT HUSBAND

EX-WIFE'S PRESENT HUSBAND on a charge of assault to murder H. H. Nail was bound over to the grand bury Tuesday aftersion following his examining trial before justice J. M. Deaver. His bond was fixed at $759. According to the testimony of R. L. Fowlor, his wife was the divorced wife of Nail. Nail came to the house on May 4 and was refused admittance. Later on, Fowlor testifies, "Nail came to the house again and when I went to the door Nail alsohed me with a razor. I struck Nail, knocking him to the ground and then the officers were notified.

Nail made a statement in which he stated that he had no knowledge of his wife having received a divorce. She did tell him over the telephone, he said, but did not believe she was felling the truth.

For Big Army.

That we affirm that with our far reaching frontiers, our insular territories, and our new and complicated responsibilities and world relations. It is essential to the security, peace and happiness of our people, and we believe that of the other people of this continent, that the government of the Enited States, while malintaining our rights by diplomacy and forbearance, if may be, should adequately prepare to maintain them by force of arms if must. And we reassert, confirm and commend to the earnest consideration of congress, that plank in our failtimers national platform which declares. The constitutional rights of American citizens should protect them on our horders and so with them throughout the world, and coary American citizen residing or having property in any foreign country is entitled to and must be given the full protection of the translets and uphold the hands of the scientific government, both for himself and his property."

Suffrage Talk.

Mrs. Thomas S. Holmes of New York was then introduced. Mrs. Holmes, who is delivering talks on woman's suffrage in various parts of the country, talked for a few minutes and was enthusiastically applauded.

"Four million women are golds to vote for president this year," declared Mrs. Holmes. "Elihu Root has made the statement that the Republican party is composed of men, but he over-looked the fact that there are 4,000,000 women to wield a powerful influence in the coming elections. Women are now sufranchised in 12 states. We are paying takes and bearing all the burdens of the men except that we do not bear arms. On the other hand we bear children.
